

A member of the "Make It Snappy" cast at the Winter Garden, who supports Eddie Cantor with a feminine charm which is distinctly South American. The young woman is Miss Cardinal Peairs.

Winning her qualification for the final in the high jumping events of the women's Olympic games at Monte Carlo. It is Miss Hatt of England who is shown going over the bar. Underwood & Underwood.

When the Mikado's son goes to school. Little Prince Suminomiya, youngest son of the Emperor of Japan, photographed upon his arrival at the Peers' School at Osaka to enter the first grade elementary course. The officers who are saluting are members of the Imperial Staff assigned to take the Prince to school.

Above—Litvinoff of the Russian delegation greeted in London on his way to Genoa by the London correspondent of THE NEW YORK HERALD, John McH. Stuart. Litvinoff faces the camera.

Eight pairs of twins in one classroom. Amazing as it may seem, these eight couples are all enrolled in one school and in the same class in Los Angeles.

One of Washington's popular young debutantes, Miss Mary Stitt, daughter of Surgeon - Gen. Edward R. Stitt.

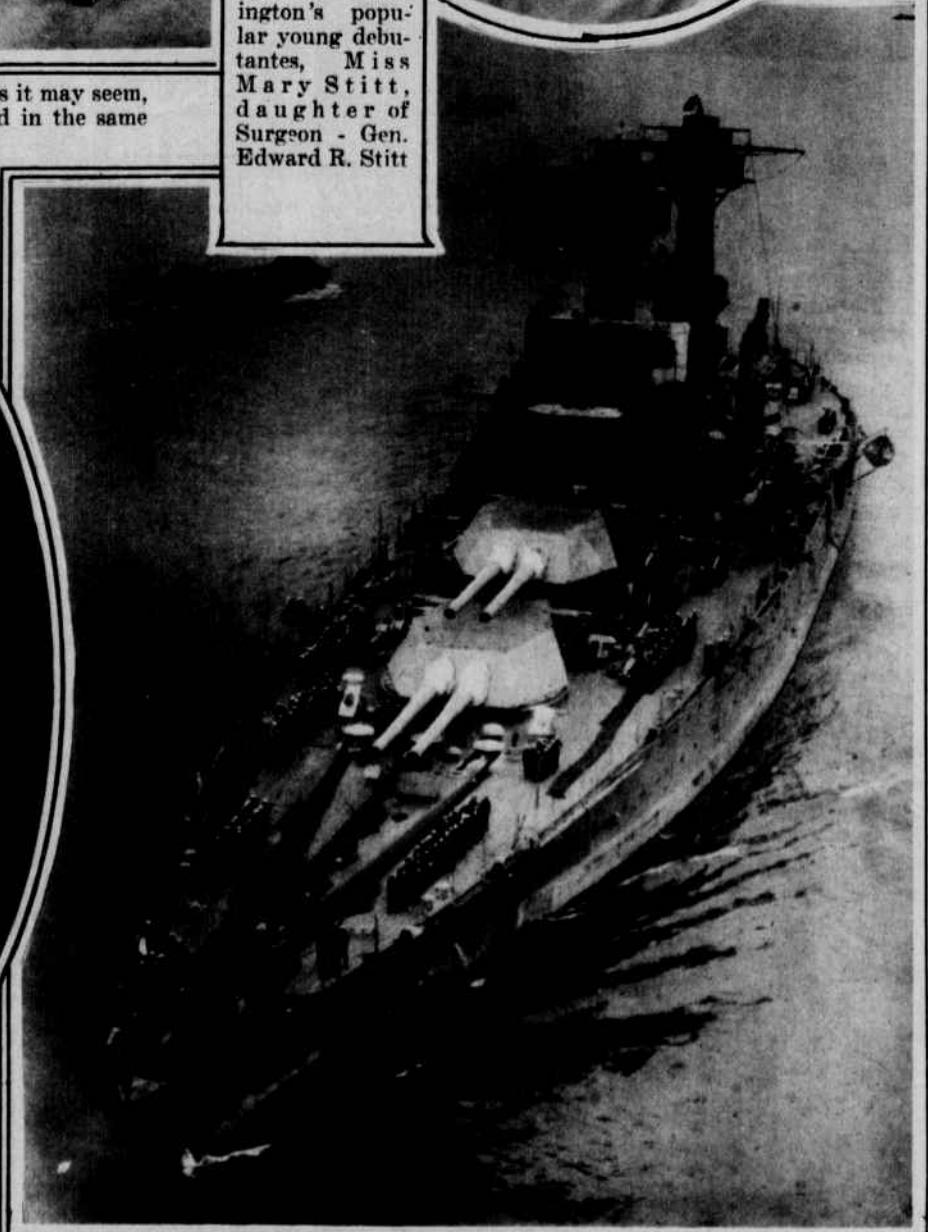

At right—A new painting of a noted Canadian, George David Stewart, M. D., the distinguished surgeon, born in Nova Scotia, now president of the Academy of Medicine of New York city. The portrait was done by H. Harris Brown, and now is on exhibition in New York.

The roof of the U. S. Treasury after the recent fire, which did $75,000 damage. Harris & Ewing.

A future Pavlova. Little Miss Eleanor Wisbauer, who danced recently at the recital of the Vestoff-Serova Dancing School at Carnegie Hall.

The U. S. S. Maryland, spic and span after an overhauling at the Brooklyn navy yard, photographed as she passed under Brooklyn Bridge on her way to Baltimore.